The College of Arts&Sciences

Department of Near Eastern Studies

Banu Ozer Griffin
Associate Teaching Professor,
Turkish language
422 White Hall
Cornell University
Ithaca, NY 14853-3201
United States

bo98@cornell.edu
+1-607-255-6275
neareastern@cornell.edu

September 28, 2026

To whom it may concern

I am pleased to confirm that Alina Kapanova served as Treasurer of the Cornell Kazakhstan Club in Fall 2024 semester under my faculty advisorship at Cornell University. In this role, Alina contributed to the organization and coordination of the club's activities and helped foster a welcoming community for students interested in Kazakhstan and Central Asia.

During her tenure, Alina helped organize community events, including movie nights, as well as professional speaker events featuring Aigi Zhangali, Nurpeis Baimukan, and Arman Zhangrmaanbgetov, with speakers from organizations including Meta and Amazon. She demonstrated initiative, and a strong commitment to building opportunities for students to connect both socially and professionally and contributed to the Cornell Kazakhstan Club and her involvement in strengthening its student community.

Sincerely,

Banu Ozer GRIFFIN

Associate Teaching Professor of Turkish

Faculty Advisor, Cornell Kazakhstan Club

Cornell is an equal opportunity employer. For more information visit hr.cornell.edu/eeeo